They were disappointed.
After thinking the matter over seriously. District-Attorney Ridgway announced that he had changed his mind. To the reporters he said:
"I don't see upon what ground I would have the right to ask Judge Moore for permission to publish these minutes. But I can see why Mayor Boody, as defendant, might ask to have them published on the ground that some of the evidence may have been false and untrue. If Mayor Boody should ask for the minutes I would certainly do all in my power to get them for him."

Somebody said that the District-Attorney was weakening, and had been frightened out of his original intension.

Mayor Boody arrived at the City Hall this morning after a week at the World's Fair.

The Mayor immediately announced that he would say nothing about the scathing language contained in the presentment made by the Grand Jury, in which the jurors regretted especially that they could not indict His Honor.

An "Evening vorld' reporter carried Mayor Boody the Information that the District-Attorney was waiting to hear from him before making application for the minutes of the Grand Jury. The Mayor said:

"I can't say a word about the matter just now, but I shall at once begin working on a statement that may vindicate me of the intimations made by the Grand Jury. I can't say whether I'll ask for the minutes or not. I shall give the whole matter careful consideration."

The Mayor said that the statement would possibly be ready for publication to-morrow.
